HALF OF A IS TOWN BURNED

Property Loss at Wallace, Ida.,
One Million Dollars.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 22.—Thirteen lives were lost when forest fires spread to the town of Wallace, Ida. The property loss is placed at $1,000,000. The entire east half of the town has been destroyed, but the flames are believed to be under control. Elsewhere the fire situation is worse than the earlier reports showed.

Mercilessly and relentlessly the forest fires in Western Montana and Idaho are sweeping over a vast area, driving hundreds of fugitives before them, destroying small settlements and wiping out of existence millions of dollars' worth of property.

The situation is more serious than ever, except as to Wallace, Ida., where it is believed that nearly half of the city will be saved.

Communication with Wallace to the west has been possible at intervals, but eastward it is entirely cut off. It is known that the entire east half of the town above Seventh street has been burned.

West of that a hard fight is being made, and with an improvement in the water supply there is more chance that the flames may be driven back. For a few minutes the Daily Missoulian's representative at Washington had a wire. He summarized the situation as follows:

"Thirteen lives lost; property loss $1,000,000; fire still threatening."

Elsewhere in the fire zone the situation has gone from bad to worse. The most serious incident is reported from the St. Joe country, where 180 men engaged in the forestry service are missing and it is feared they have been burned to death. When the fire approached the camp where there were 200 men, two of the fighters took a horse and riding the animal to death, reached another camp and ordered a rescue party, which penetrated the fire to Bird Creek.

Eighteen of the men were found in the water, where they were unharmed. Of the remaining 180 no word has been received. The forestry service has organized a relief train, well equipped with pack animals, carrying provisions and hospital supplies, and will endeavor to get through the fire.

Refugees at Missoula.

About 1,000 refugees have been brought into Missoula. There is much distress among them. Their wants are being supplied by Missoula people and they have been given temporary homes. The first of the trains came in over the Northern Pacific's Coeur d'Alene branch and brought the patients who had been in the Sisters' hospital at Wallace and as many refugees as could find place on the small train.

There were 250 on this train and a second train brought as many more. These people came from the small towns along the line between here and Wallace.

Many of them had been roused from their sleep by the people on the train, whose summons had been the first intimation that the fire was near; there had been no sign of it when the people went to bed at night. In most instances these people escaped only scantily clad. A woman who had fled from her home at midnight gave birth to a child in a box car just after the arrival of the first train at Missoula.

Local hospitals are caring for the sick.

Missoula homes have been opened freely and the homeless are comfortable for the present. Another train with 500 people on board is expected over the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound railway.

A dense pall of smoke hangs all over Western Montana. In Missoula it was as dark as midnight at 5 o'clock, the dense smoke being given a lurid hue which had all the semblance of the glow of fire, but which was probably due to the sun.

The town of Taft, near the Idaho line, has been entirely destroyed by fire. Salteese, just below Taft, has been abandoned by its inhabitants and is known to be surrounded by fire. Deborgia is seriously threatened and one man is missing. At St. Regis the fire has crossed the river and threatened outlying buildings, though no fears are entertained for the town.

Haughan is reported to be deserted, the last word from there being that the fire is dangerously near and the telephone operator was preparing to

The area covered is 100 miles square, most of it in the mountains and sparsely settled. It is difficult to obtain information from any of the points and impossible to reach some of the places at all.

There is a probability that there has been serious loss of life, as there are camping parties and lumbermen all through the mountains and the fire may have come upon them while they slept at night or they may have been awakened in the morning to find themselves cut off.

Incendiarism is now believed to be responsible in large measure for the spread of the devastating forest fires in Oregon and the Northwest in which millions of feet of valuable timber have gone up in smoke and millions more are threatened.

Work of Incendiarists.

Acting Forester Albert F. Potter received advices from Supervisor Buck at Medford, Ore., stating that the continued spread of the fires in Southern Oregon had revealed clearly the work of incendiarists. Forest rangers are now engaged in rounding up definite evidence.

Mr. Potter views with anxiety this particular feature of the situation and intimated that it may be found necessary to call upon Governor Benson of Oregon, through the secretary of war, for aid from the Oregon national guard. As many federal troops as possible are being rushed on foot into the burning regions from nearby posts.

The fires are now especially threatening in the Crater Lake country of Southern Oregon. Advices indicate that at least 2,000,000 acres of timber are in danger of being swept away. Supervisor Buck reports that the situation at Medford, Ore., also is extremely critical and there is little likelihood of extinguishing the flames which in that region are spreading with tremendous speed.

George Walbille, a packer, and two companions reached Missoula from Adair, a station on the Milwaukee road about 200 miles west of Missoula. They left Adair on horseback. One horse was ridden to death, but the men got over the range.

They say a car of dynamite and a car of oil at the construction camp near Adair exploded soon after they left, the fire spreading rapidly, and Walbille believes the camp was destroyed. There were twenty-five men there.

State Senator Donlan's lumber yards at Cedar Spur were totally burned. The forest reserve has approximately 600 men in the field fighting fires, but there is no communication with them, all wires being down. A special from Thompson Falls, Mont., says the fire situation there is alarming. Thompson Falls is threatened by forest fires.

AT LEAST FIFTY FIRE FIGHTERS ARE DEADSeveral Parties Caught in the Hills in Idaho.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 22.—A Wallace special to the Spokesman Review says:

"It is believed that at least fifty fire fighters are dead, several parties having been caught in the hills. Losses here will reach the neighborhood of $1,000,000 according to the latest estimate. Mullin is in immediate danger and people are flocking to Wardner and Spokane in box cars. Hospitals at Wallace are crowded with victims from the canyons and nine bodies not identified as yet have been brought here. The remainder of Wallace is not out of danger as yet. About seventy-five families are homeless."

Barber Killed by Train.

Merrillan, Wis., Aug. 22.—The finding of a badly injured man on the right of way of the Omaha road was reported to the authorities of this place from Wrightsville. The injured man's name was Jack Hammon and he was a barber. He was brought here, where he died. He fell off the roof of a box car.

Minneapolis Man Drowned.

Minneapolis, Aug. 22.—Thomas Olmscheid, employed as bottler by the Minneapolis Brewing company, was drowned in Ryan's lake, near Camden place, when his boat was accidentally upset. R. P. Foss, who was with him at the time, had a narrow escape, but clung to the boat until rescued.

Woman Killed by Fire.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 22.—Fire, resulting from the approach of a storm, caused the death of Mrs. Synve Johnson, a pioneer resident of Kingsbury county, from heart failure. She was fifty-seven and had, with her husband, been a resident of Kingsbury county since pioneer days.

It Did.

"Do you know anything, doctor," said Mrs. Flunkin. "That will put a little color into my cheeks? I am so dreadfully pale."

"Well, madam," replied Dr. Blunt. "Perhaps if I tell you that you have a hole in your stocking about the size of a quarter it may have the desired effect."

KING MANUEL.

Plot to Overthrow Him
and Establish Dictatorship.

TO OVERTHROW GOVERNMENT

Plot to Establish Military Dictatorship in Portugal.

Lisbon, Aug. 22.—(By Way of the Frontier)—The newspapers print alarming reports of an alleged plot of the Clerical party for the overthrow of the Portuguese government and the establishment of a military dictatorship.

The Seculo says the Clerical party's strong and growing dissatisfaction with the liberal policy of the government has culminated in the organization of a revolution to overthrow the administration, seize its members and set up a military dictatorship, the first object of which will be to stamp out the republicans.

El Mundo says that several regiments have joined the movement. The paper says also that alarm is general and that the military and naval forces are under arms night and day.

Missing Man's Body Found.

Duluth, Aug. 22.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of William Langan, a deputy health commissioner of Duluth, is in part cleared up by the discovery of his skeleton two miles beyond the end of the Woodland car line. His badge and watch served to identify. The man disappeared two years ago and there is no clue now as to how he happened to die. Langan was unmarried.

Queer Collateral.

"Here is a fact as strange as it is true," said an Egyptologist. "Mummies in ancient Egypt were used chiefly as collateral."

"When an Egyptian wanted to borrow he gave his father's or grandfather's mummy as security. Sometimes, if he required a large sum, he gave his father and both grandfathers, and he would even throw in the mummy of his mother-in-law if she fortunately happened to be in a mummified state."

"Joking aside," the Egyptologist continued, "what I tell you is the truth. An Egyptian was not permitted to borrow without pledging the mummy of some near relative. It was deemed in Egypt both impious and infamous not to redeem so sacred a pledge as that, and he who died with a family mummy still in pawn was himself buried in unconsecrated ground."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Postage Stamp.

Consider the postage stamp. It says nothing regarding the difficulty of the task assigned to it, but by dint of close application it usually gets there; also it delivers the goods.

Again, if one isn't enough to carry the thing through, two or more by working harmoniously together see the thing to a finish.

No matter if the (mail) matter be weighty, it puts a good face (of Washington) on it and goes directly to the point. It gets licked and stamped upon, and men besmear its fair features and oftentimes give it more to carry than the postal union allows. But, in spite of all this, it sticks unflinchingly to the matter in hand by virtue of the fact that it knows that it has good backing.

Its stick-to-it-ivity is worthy of emulation by you.—Judge's Library.

NOTED LIBERIAN IN LONDON.

Widow of First President at Age of Ninety-two.

As the republic of Liberia is attracting a little of the world's attention at the present time it is interesting to note that there still lives near Battersea park, London, Mrs. Jane Roberts, widow of Joseph J. Roberts, who was elected the first president of Liberia in 1847.

Mrs. Roberts was born in America in 1818, the daughter of a Baptist minister named Waring, and went to Liberia with her parents, both octogenarians, in 1824. She married Roberts in 1836 and visited with him most of the European courts in the fifties. She lived for over seventy years of her life in Liberia before going to London.

TOTTERING
TO ITS FALLProvisional Government of Nicaragua
Doomed.

AMERICANS IN GRAVE PERIL

Crowds Throng the Streets of Managua, Crying "Death to the Yankees." American Legation Is Under Guard and Two Cruisers Are at Corinto and in Close Touch With the Situation.

Washington, Aug. 22.—The provisional government of Nicaragua is tottering to its fall, the Madriz army is demoralized, consternation reigns in Managua and Dr. Madriz, his general-in-chief, Toledo, and Dr. Irias are preparing to leave the country. This in effect is the advices received by the state department from United States Consul Alvarado at Managua, which advices were confirmed by dispatches in a similar vein from Mr. Johnson, United States consul at Corinto.

The panic in the capital also is threatening the lives and property of Americans. Crowds are reported traversing the streets crying "Death to the Yankees," while the cruisers Vicksburg and Yorktown are at Corinto and in close touch with the situation, the legation and consulates in Managua are under heavy police guard and preparations have been made to meet attacks on American lives or property.

The situation grew out of the victory won by the Estrada troops on Thursday, when the revolutionists defeated a strong column of government troops and effected the crossing of the Tipitapa river. The rout of the government army seems to have been complete. Mr. Olivares reports that General Toledano, who is in command of the Madriz troops, arrived in Managua the day following his defeat and announced that his force had been seized with panic and fled when attacked.

At the Mercy of a Mob.

Granada also appears to be at the mercy of the undisciplined mob of soldiery, who are reported to be pillaging the houses there. It is added that the Estrada force is already at the gates of the city and is preparing to take the place by assault. From the evident demoralized condition of the Madriz forces observers here believe that Granada will be taken by Estrada with little trouble and the way to the capital thus practically will be clear.

The family of Dr. Madriz already has left the capital for Corinto and the dispatch declared that Madriz was preparing to follow them.

General Fernando Rivas was killed while fighting at the head of 1,000 government troops, who were endeavoring to retake ground they had lost to the revolutionary forces near Granada. General Mena commanded the revolutionists and after three hours of desperate fighting the Madriz forces were decisively defeated.

General Mena reports his army is actively pressing the campaign in the outskirts of Granada. The chiefs of the Madriz army, he says, already have fled to safety, using the lake boat Victoria in order to escape. The government troops remaining have taken refuge in the church in Granada.

General Mena expects the capitulation of Granada momentarily. The city has a population of 20,000.

IN A CAMPAIGN HANDBOOK

President Taft Will Make His Position Clear.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 22.—As time goes on it becomes more and more apparent no direct answer will be made here to the reports of a break between the President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt and the charges alleged as a foundation for the rupture.

Although the silence of the past few days is still strictly maintained, it is believed now the president intends to make his position clear in the letter he is preparing for the Republican campaign committee handbook, and the speech he is preparing for the conservation congress at St. Paul. Mr. Taft has been working on these two documents almost continuously for the past two days. He realizes the importance of what he may have to say at this time, and is devoting more care to the letter and the speech than to any public utterances he has made since his inauguration.

With the important work he has in hand, Mr. Taft evidently has concluded this is not the time to enter into a newspaper controversy with anyone, as to his administration, what it has accomplished in fulfillment of the party platform pledges and what it intends to do in the future in the way of recommendations to congress, President Taft will soon make these matters clear, and it is said he is willing to stand or fall by what he has to say.

LONG JOURNEY FOR NOUGHT

Massachusetts Man's Mail Fiancee
Weds Another.

Minot, N. D., Aug. 22.—When Marcus Bunce of Groveland, Mass., arrived in this city expecting to meet his prospective bride from Ryder, who had assured him of her love after answering an advertisement in an matrimonial journal, he found her the wife of another.

Arrangements had all been completed by letter. Bunce had sent his prospective bride a diamond ring and a substantial check with which to pay for her wedding outfit.

Upon arrival in Minot, he called for his fiancée at her place of employment only to find that she had two days before become the bride of a poor but hard working young man in Minot. Bunce threatened proceedings by law and was only persuaded to leave the city when the ring and money he had advanced were returned to him by the successful suitor.

ALL OF THEM WILL SEND DELEGATIONSNorthwestern Governors Will Attend Congress in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Aug. 22.—As a result of the conferences held in Salt Lake City last week the Northwestern governors will not only attend the conservation congress which opens in St. Paul on Sept. 5, but they will come early, stay late and make things livelier while here.

This was the sentiment of the St. Paul delegation which returned from the Salt Lake City conference. In the party were Frank B. Kellogg, J. H. Beek and Reuben Warner, Jr. Ralph W. Wheelock, the representative of Governor Eberhart, stopped off in Colorado on his way back and will return the latter part of this week.

No hostilities to the coming congress developed at the Salt Lake City meeting, so far as could be observed by the St. Paul delegation. Those in attendance declared the conservation movement to be of such importance that it was worth while for them to acquire as to the sort of treatment they might expect if they attended the St. Paul congress.

In this they were assured by the local delegation. It was pointed out that the congress would be more educational and nothing could be settled here further than recommendations that might be formulated for legislation.

This guarantee was accepted by the conferring governors. All of those present expressed their intention of attending the congress and of appointing strong delegations to represent them.

ROOSEVELT TO
TOUR THE WESTEXPENSE IN CRIPPEN'S
CASE RECORD IN LONDON.Scotland Yard Never Before Expended $25,000 on One Crime.

It is estimated that pursuit, capture and trial of Dr. Crippen will cost the taxpayers of London $25,000. Never before has Scotland Yard spent so much in the pursuit of any criminal.

A large item in "the Yard's" Crippen bill is the cost of telegrams and cables giving descriptions of Crippen, which were sent to many continental, American and Canadian police headquarters. This item will amount to $2,500.

Twenty-five thousand large posters, containing descriptions of Crippen and Miss Le Neve, with reproductions of their photographs and handwriting, were scattered broadcast up and down two continents. Fifty clerks were engaged night and day for a long time in wrapping, addressing and mailing these posters. That will be a costly item.

Then there is the expense of sending Inspector Dew to Canada and the expense of another detective and a wardress who have gone to Quebec to look after the prisoners on their way back to England. Then there is the reward of $1,250, which will have to be paid to Captain Kendall of the steamship Montrose. There is, too, the cost of the long coroner's inquest, with the fees for analytical chemists.

The trial of Crippen will not be very expensive, nor will it last long. English criminal courts move with swiftness and without technicalities. It is not expected that Crippen's trial will consume more than three or four days.

If he is sentenced to death he will be hanged on the third Monday morning following the day of his conviction. Convicted criminals under a recent statute have the right to appeal, but the appeal court works swiftly and, like the lower court, pays little attention to technicalities.

START TO BE MADE TUESDAY

First Set Speech Will Be Delivered to Farmers of Herkimer County, N. Y. Will Attend Labor Day Celebration at Fargo and Will Deliver an Address at the Conservation Congress in St. Paul.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Theodore Roosevelt will start Tuesday on a journey of 5,493 miles, which will extend over nearly three weeks, and in the course of which he will travel through fourteen states. During the tour he will deliver fourteen set speeches, one for each state.

The party will travel in the private car Republic, attached to regular trains, except in a few cases in which special trains will be used for short distances to enable Colonel Roosevelt to fill all his engagements. Ernest Abbott and W. H. Howland of New York, who are associated with him in his editorial work, and Frank Harper, his secretary, will travel with him.

In addition to his set speeches Colonel Roosevelt will make many extemporaneous addresses from the rear platform of his car. At almost every point along the line of travel elaborate preparations to receive him are being made and from start to finish he will be governed in his movements by a schedule which will keep him on the move during his waking hours.

The start will be made at 10:30 a. m. on Aug. 23 and the first day's journey will be to Utica. Directly on his arrival he will go by trolley car to Oriskany, nine miles out of Utica, thence to Summit Park, a mile further on, where he is to deliver an address to the farmers of Herkimer and Oneida counties. He will spend the night at Mohawk at the country home of his brother-in-law, Douglas Robinson of New York.

Will Resume Journey Westward.

The journey westward will be resumed at midnight the next night to Chicago, where the party is due Aug. 25. The same night the party will leave for Omaha. Arriving there Aug. 26 the car will leave at 4 p. m. for Cheyenne, Wyo., where Colonel Roosevelt will deliver his second set speech at the cowboy's carnival. He will leave Cheyenne Aug. 29 for Denver, where he will speak on conservation.

On Aug. 30 he will start for Pueblo, Colo. He will reach Pueblo at noon and leave that city for Osawatimie, Kan., where he is due Aug. 31.

At Osawatimie the ex-president will deliver one of the most important speeches of the trip. In it he will deal with a number of the problems with which the national administration is especially concerned. He will remain over night at Osawatimie and will leave Sept. 1 for Kansas City.

The Kansas City speech will be delivered at the Commercial club. Arriving at Omaha, Sept. 2, he will make a speech on the Panama canal and spend the night there.

He is due there the same day, to speak at a picnic of railway trainmen and firemen. Leaving there he will go to Chicago to speak that night before the Hamilton club.

He will leave Chicago at midnight. Cincinnati will be reached at 8 a. m., Sept. 9, and Colonel Roosevelt will spend the day and night there, leaving Sept. 10 for Pittsburgh. off near the market place. As the machine never goes over eight miles an hour no damage was done and it was speedily repaired. Contractor Setula now has most of the bad places in that road in good repair,

Deerwood played Motley at Deer-wood Sunday afternoon and was defeated by the close score of 6 to 7.
The batteries for Deerwood were Anderson, Mahlum and Bush. Four scores were made off Anderson in one inning and two in another, when he was replaced by Bush who held Motley down to one hit. Bush brought in one home run and the ball was lost in the haze of smoke and is presumed to be going yet.

Deerwood's third baseman made the other home run. Next Sunday Deer-wood plays Motley at Motley and Alderman will pitch; so there may be a different story to tell.

Aaron Burr's Grave.

Aaron Burr died at Port Richmond, Staten Island, Sept. 14, 1836. His remains were conveyed to Princeton, N.
J., where, according to his request, he was interred at the feet of his father and grandfather. Both his father and grandfather were presidents of Princeton college.

Concerning the tombstone which marks his burial place, we quote from the history of his life by Parton:
"Some efforts were made and some money subscribed soon after his death to procure a suitable monument, but the project failed. For nearly two years the spot where he lay was unmarked when one morning it was discovered that a small, very substantial and not inexpensive monument of granite and marble had been placed during the night over his remains. No one in the town saw the monument erected or knew anything whatever respecting it. There was no stonecutter in the vicinity capable of executing the work. The stone bears the inscription: 'Aaron Burr. Born February, 6, 1756. Died, September 14, 1836.'—Philadelphia Press.

The Presidential Salute.

One explanation of the reason for adopting twenty-one guns as the presidential salute is that there might be maintained a uniformity in national salutes, Great Britain having in the distant past adopted twenty-one as the number for the royal salute. Of the many surmises as to why the number twenty-one was settled upon we mention two—first, that twenty-one was the number of years fixed by English law as the age of majority; second, that seven was the original salute and three times seven would signify one seven for each of the divisions, England and Wales, Scotland and Ireland. It is asserted that the United States adopted this salute to signify to the mother country that her child had reached his majority and was prepared in law to inherit the land and to this end fired the "gun of 1776," the figures of which year, 1+7+7+6, equal 21.—Philadelphia Press.

Underground Hotels.

An extraordinary hotel is that in the sewers of Paris, immediately below the Church of St. Madeleine. It was built and is conducted solely for the benefit of the sewer workers.
Nearly a hundred meals are provided every day, and for the sum of $2.40 a man can be comfortably housed and fed for a week in this gigantic drainpipe.

Very similar is the hotel which caters for visitors to the coal mine of St. Pierre at Mons. It is to be found at the bottom of the mine, 600 feet below the earth, and is carved out of solid coal. The electric light on the glittering black walls, which have been left unpapered, is extremely effective. Large reception and bed rooms splendidly fitted up are provided, and the hotel even boasts the luxury of a swimming bath.

Mark Twain as "Attraction."

A girl who was a stranger to Mark Twain once found her way into his Bermuda home with the hope of getting a sight of the author. She came suddenly in contact with him and frankly explained her errand.

"Have you seen the crystal cave
yet," he asked, "or the aquarium?"
"No, I came to see you first," she answered.

"Well, you shouldn't have seen me
first," he answered. "I run in opposition to the crystal and the aquarium. But they're not shucks to me.
I'm lots better. I give them their money's worth. But you should see them. Then you'll appreciate me."

This was said in his most earnest drawl and with only a sparkle of humor in his keen blue eyes.—Chicago Tribune.

Striking It Rich.

"Did you ever strike it rich prospecting?"
"Only once," replied the westerner.
"I was going along a trail in the mountains late one afternoon when I saw the gleam of metal. Hastening to it, I found—"
"Silver or gold?"
"Tin. It was a matchbox, full too.
And I had been out of matches since my early morning smoke"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Benefits of Music.

"Do you believe that music prevents crime?"
"To a certain extent," replied Mr.
Simick. "When a man keeps both hands and his breath busy with a cornet you know he can't be picking pockets, attempting homicide or slandering his neighbors."—Washington Star.

A Comparison.

In a school at Washington a boy was asked to compare the word "sick."
The little fellow arose in his place, looked around him for a moment, his face a picture of deep thought, and then he said:

"Sick, worse, dead."—Los Angeles Times.

Easily Managed.

First Girl: I mean to be engaged when I'm nineteen. Second Girl: But supposing you can't manage it? First Girl: Then I shall remain nineteen until I am engaged.

Change.

you change a dollar bill? Boy—Yes ma'am. How'll you have it in—nine pills or cough drops?—Exchange

State Senator Bruce,
Atlantic, Iowa.
"As everybody in Des Moines

One cold night last January, a lawyer friend of mine found me drunk and unconscious in my office. In my drunken bewilderment I had "blowed out the gas," and was not far from dead. Major Illsley, of the Volunteers of America took me to the Neal Institute, and I was there twenty-four hours before I knew where I was. The Neal cured me perfectly and since taking the treatment I have gained 43 pounds. My mind and body is in a better condition today than it has been for 20 years."

THE HEAVENS TURN TO GREEN

Curious Phenomena Noticed in the Skies Sunday Morning and all Day Today

THOUGHT TO BE FOREST FIRES

Same Conditions Observed at Duluth, Bemidji, Staples and Twin Cities

At about eight o'clock Sunday morning the sky at Brainerd and in its vicinity was overcast with a greenish yellowish pall. The sun was not visible. Many expected a cyclone to follow in the wake of this curious phenomenon and made preparations for such an event. There was no wind. The temperature fell. In the afternoon this blanket like appearance of the skies was dispelled and the atmosphere resumed its normal blue tint. It was very warm and sultry during the afternoon and in the evening.

This morning the same conditions were noticeable in a more marked degree. It grew so dark at noon that lights had to be turned on in offices and other indoor work. Conductors and trainmen said these same conditions had been noticed at Staples, Bemidji, Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

There is no sign or smell of smoke and no cinders. Many suppose it is caused by the heavy forest fires to the west of us in distant states.

NOTICE

To the Voters of Crow Wing County: I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of county superintendent of schools, on the republican ticket, subject to your approval at the primary election, September 20, 1910.

J. A. WILSON.

IN POLICE COURT

One Case of Drunkenness and One Case of Disorderly Conduct

In afternoon court this morning John Anderson plead guilty to drunkenness and drew $10 or ten days. He took the ten days.

Alfred Jones the colored porter formerly working at the Rex hotel was up on a charge of disorderly conduct. On Saturday evening he had secured a job as porter on a train and while in the vicinity of one of the Parker show sleeping cars he got in an altercation with a number of employes. Everybody pitched on to him. The porter of the "Sunflower" car hit him on the head and other places and he fled with blood streaming over him. To escape the gang he ran through the lobby of a local hotel and the clerk let him wash up and go out the back way. Then he sat on the curb of South Sixth street near a confectionery store and a crowd gathered around him. Officer Knight thinking him drunk, arrested him. Judge Warner heard his story and then discharged the defendant.

STOLE THREE GUNS

Burglars Force a Side Window and Steal Two Rifles and a Shot Gun from A. L. Hoffman

The window in the alley of the building occupied by the Brainerd Ice company on Sixth street south was pried up last night by unknown parties and from a rack of guns arranged in the window two 22-calibre rifles and a 12-gauge shot gun were taken. The work is thought to have been that of youthful burglars for the side of the building under the window shows the footmarks where the parties dug their toes in and wore the sand off the paint in their endeavor to hang onto the window sill. Two bars of iron were used to force the window, which was not securely fastened, and they were left on the ground.

Chief Quinn Finds two Go Carts, Lady's Cloak, and a Veil—Who Lost Them?

Various things have been lost and found during the carnival week just passed but it remained for Chief of Police S. W. Quinn to make the most sensational and exciting find of them all.

He found two baby buggies and they were empty. One was found in the vicinity of the Japanese Village and the other near the corner of South Seventh and Norwood streets.

There was also found a pair of shears, a blue veil and a fairly good looking ladies cloak. All of these articles can be secured by seeing the chief of police and proving the property. The chief is in great suspense regarding the baby buggy business and wishes they would be claimed immediately.

PUBLISHES BOOK OF POEMS

Miss Marion Louise Barber, of Minneapolis, Now Visiting in Brainerd, is Author

Miss Marion Louise Barber, of Minneapolis, who with her sister, Miss Ruth, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. L. P. White, of Brainerd, has recently published a volume of poems as mentioned in the Minneapolis Journal. It is entitled the "Mother Heart, a few lines—none original, of that second love—"which passeth all understanding." The Journal states, "The things about this little anthology of motherhood compel the reader's admiration—the rare judgment and sympathy with which Miss Marion Louise Barber has selected the poems that fill its pages, and the exquisite taste displayed in the printing, binding and decorating of the book. Miss Barber had a very definite idea in mind in making her selections, "the expression of the relation between mother and child, in its tenderness and sweet intimacy—the link that makes them one," and to this she has adhered throughout, so that when our has gone through the little volume, one realizes the feeling put into this verse by Dr. Richard Burton: The little ones, ah, God, these tiny nestlers, Amidst our sweat and strife, How they sweeten for us sorry wretches The bitter bread of life.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"Arizona"

"Arizona," which will appear at the Brainerd opera house on Tuesday, August 30 has made a career of uninterrupted success in almost every large city in the east. It has played New York at the Herald Square theatre and at the Academy of Music for over 150 consecutive nights, and each and all of the critics have universally agreed that it had achieved a distinction of being the only American drama by an American author which has ever reached this remarkable record in theatrical history. Mr. Thomas has, more than any writer, laid the foundation and lower courses of the American drama which will one day develop into a most imposing institution. "Arizona" as the name implies, is a play which has its scenes, characters and incidents located in the far west. The people of the play comprise the sturdy ranchman and cowboys, the brisk, alert women of the pioneer generation and their dainty, graceful yet strong and self reliant daughter, types of the American girl over which the whole world has come to wonder and admire; officers and soldiers, fair samples of the heterogeneous community which Mr. Thomas has chosen to utilize in the way of literary material. The piece is full of bright color contrasts as the changing combination of a kaleidoscope. It fairly contrasts as the fresh vigorous, active life of the young west. It has a love story as tender and almost as tragic as that of "Romeo and Juliet," and it has a relief work of humor as ripe and unctious as that which Mr. Thomas has previously shown in "Alabama" and "In Missouri." When the critics have said of "Arizona" that it is better than "Alabama," they have said all they well could say in praise of an American play.

"The Flower of the Ranch"

Picturesque and colorful are the three acts of "The Flower of the Ranch," the successful musical comedy which comes to the Brainerd opera house Sept. 1st for an engagement of one night. The foothills of the Rockies in California is the locale of the play, and the characters are such as one might naturally expect to find among rough environment. There are Indians, Mexicans, cowboys ranchmen and little "Flower," an attractive specimen of budding womanhood beloved by everyone. Jack Farnum, the hero of the plausible and spirited story, is a manly young rancher whose property an unprincipled sheriff seeks to secure with the aid of a Mexican bad man. Little "Flower," whose affection for Jack is undisguised, is instrumental in thwarting the designs of the plotters, of course. The comedy element in the play is constant and keen. Skivers, a smart and scrappy chore boy, with a penchant for timely rhyme and whose nimble feet execute divers eccentric dances, romps gaily through the three acts with Flower; while Timberline Ike and Little Mac, an Irish sergeant at the military post, contribute their share of the fun. "The Flower of the Ranch" is not a shoot-up opera as there is but one pistol shot during the action of the play, and that is "off-stage." It is good, clean, wholesome entertainment of decidedly good character, and ought to duplicate in this city its great success of last season in the large cities of the east. The cast of principals this season is with two exceptions the same as last.

Jess Harris, the unimitable "Skivers" in "The Flower of the Ranch," which is to be the attraction at the Brainerd opera house, Thursday, September 1st, is considered one of the best eccentric dancers on the American stage, and his work is one of the many pleasant features of a splendid performance.

The French comedian Perlet was extraordinarily thin. A physician recommended him to try some bath in the Pyrenees, so he took himself to the mineral springs, where he bathed unreluctantly, but all in vain; he did not increase in size. "Patience," urged the doctor. "There is nothing like our baths for making people fat." One day while Perlet was waiting philosophically in his bath for an embonpoint which never came he heard a conversation in the next room, from which his own was divided by only a thin partition and which was occupied by an enormous woman, fat as the Hottentot Venus. "Doctor," said she, "I am getting tired of this." "Why?" asked the Aesculapius. "I have been

TENNESSEE LIKE KUKLUX PERIOD

Governor Patterson's Campaign Recalls Klan's Activities.

FOUNDER TELLS THE STORY.

Captain John Watson Morton Assents South's Famous Night Riders Were Outcome of Medical School Prank. Slew Few Men Despite Charges. Defied Troops in Last Parade.

The present political campaign in Tennessee, engendered largely by the personality of Governor Malcolm R. Patterson, has caused a hotter condition of affairs than during the reconstruction days, according to Captain John Watson Morton, the founder and organizer of the Ku Klux Klan, the very name of which spread terror over the south in the days following the civil war. During the war he was chief of artillery for General Nathan Bedford Forrest, the Confederate cavalry leader, and he was twice elected secretary of state of Tennessee.

"There isn't a man, woman or child, I believe, in Tennessee today who could be called a noncombatant in the political fight," said Captain Morton. "And it's all on account of Governor Patterson. He's one of the most remarkable men—certainly the most remarkable politician—that Tennessee has known since Bob Taylor, now a senator, fiddled his way into the gubernatorial chair and beat his Republican brother, Alf. Some northern editor the other day called Patterson the 'Tennessee gamecock,' and I tell you, sir, he surely hit it right."

Ku Klux Starts In Jest. "How did you happen to start the Ku Klux?" Captain Morton was asked. "Oh, that's an old story," he said. "I went to a medical college after the surrender, and it was started as an association of college boys for playing mysterious pranks down in Pulaski. That way in May, 1865, and pretty soon because of our scary costumes—we wore long white robes and tall peaked caps with holes for our eyes—the rumor started that we had organized to check Republican domination."

Well, of course, the bad blacks and the carpetbaggers and scoundrels were giving us a lot of trouble in those days, and the idea of the Klan appeared so plausible to the disfranchised Confederates that it crystallized in Nashville in 1867. Our sole idea was to suppress the plundering blacks and lawless whites. "We called the whole the 'invisible empire.' The states were realms, the congressional districts 'dominions,' counties 'provinces' and cities 'dens.' The supreme ruler was the 'grand wizard,' and there were 'grand dragons,' 'titans,' 'giants' and 'cyclops.' "I was made the grand cyclops of Nashville, and one day I met General Forrest on Church street, near the Maxwell House. 'John,' he says, 'I've heard of this Ku Klux, and I've come here to join it. We had to keep pretty quiet about it, so I hitched up my buggy, took him a long way out of town and said, 'General, hold up your right hand,' and he did, and I gave him the oath."

"John," he said when he was through, "that was the worst swearing I've ever done," and, believe me, that was a compliment coming from him. "Well, general," I said, "you come to room 10 in the Maxwell House tonight and you'll get some more," and he did, and we soon after elected him grand wizard.

Slayings Were Few. "In spite of all that was said of us—the federal government offered all sorts of rewards for our capture—we didn't do much killing. Of course if a black deserved hanging he got it. But we mostly whipped 'em or run 'em away out of the locality or scared 'em good, and that was enough."

"Most of 'em believed we were the 'ban'ts' of dead Confederates. Well, we'd call on one late at night, and when he'd come to the door we'd ask for a drink of water. Sometimes he'd try to run, but we generally got his cabin surrounded. He'd bring a bucket of water, and we'd stick out a skeleton hand and make him tilt the bucket for us to drink. We had a trick of pouring the whole bucketful down a tube, and when we were through we'd say, 'That's the best drink I've had since I was shot at Shiloh.' That would come near being enough for him, and then we'd go on."

"Well, sir, we did about all we set out to do, and in February, 1869, we got the order to disband. But General Forrest told us we must make a demonstration. So the word got round that on a certain night the Ku Klux would march through the town, and there was a lot of excitement and curiosity. There were 300 reconstruction police and 300 metropolitan police in Nashville then, and they swore to kill or capture every clansman. But we put on our sheets and saddled our horses, and that night sixteen of us paraded through Nashville by the silent crowds that lined the streets. The metropolitan police didn't even try to stop us. They lined up in one place, but they parted and let us ride through."

A Tale of Heroism. "I went for a bath yesterday," said an Avenger, "I had been in the water some time when I suddenly perceived an enormous shark advancing toward me with his jaws open. What was I to do? When he was a yard off I dived, took out my pocketknife and ripped up the monster."

"What? Then you are in the habit of bathing with your clothes on," said one of the listeners.—From the French.

Perplexing. Territorial his first experience as a sentry, going over his instructions—"If any one comes along I say: 'Halt! Who goes there?' Then he says, 'Friend,' and I say, 'Pass, friend; all's well.' But some silly ass'll say, 'Enemy,' and then I shan't know what to do. Rotten job, I call it.—Punch.

Indignant. The mayor of a small town had come to Leipzig to see the fair. A stranger who had lost his way asked him, "Pray, good honest man, what is the name of this street?"

"I am not a good honest man," said the former; "I am the mayor of Marburg."

PRESENT DAY PIRATES.

We were crowded in the cabin. Not a passenger could sleep. It was midnight on the waters. And a storm was on the deep. But no word about the tempest. Oozed from our pallid lips—We were all too busy bawling. The inquiry of tips.

'Tis a fearful thing in winter To be shattered by the blast And to hear the rattling trumpet. Thunder, "Cut away the mast!" But this poem of our childhood Paints a scene that's somewhat tame. Far more fearful are the stewards And their wholesale holdup game.

Everywhere a fellow wanderer Smiling stewards haunt his path. Table stewards, stateroom stewards, Stewards of the deck and bath. Stewards meet you, stewards greet you. From the time you step aboard, Planning how to separate you From your much depleted hoard.

Men may talk about old Blackbeard, Men may talk of Captain Kidd, But to neither of those worthies Need the steward "lift his lid." They were more or less successful Terrorizing old time ships, But the modern ocean terror Is the steward seeking tips!—Dennis A. McCarthy in New York Sun.

OLD TIME MISSISSIPPI METHODS OUT OF DATE.

Captain Formerly Waded to Locate Elusive Channel.

Steamboatmen who have been contending with low water in the upper Mississippi river should consult with the more ancient mariners in the Mississippi for pointers on the movement of boats on low water and then start out to restore navigation on the stream.

Captain William Kelly, secretary of the Mississippi and Ohio River Pilots' society, says this is the first season since 1856 to his personal knowledge that steamboats have ceased to run during the open season.

In the summer of 1856, Captain Kelly says, he was piloting the steamer Stella Whipple when the water was four inches lower than this year's record. The boat was towing two barges as lighters coming down the stream, but got stuck on the crossing at Robinson's rocks, fourteen miles below St. Paul.

Captain Kelly says he waded into the river ahead of the boat to locate the best place to drop the anchor and pull the boat over the bar. The water was sixteen inches deep, and the best channel was located by wading, and Captain Kelly returned to the boat without wetting a stitch of his clothing.

The method of pulling the boats over shoal crossings was to carry the anchor out in a yawl ahead of the steamer, drop it to the bottom of the river and pull the boat over by a line attached to the anchor and to the captain on the boat.

When all was ready the passengers were transferred to the barges to lighten the boat. The run was then made without difficulty till the next crossing was reached, when the anchor and captain process of pulling the boat over might be repeated.

AVIATORS LIKE ESPERANTO.

No Other Language Spoken at French Flying School.

The connection between aviation and Esperanto is not apparent, yet it must exist, for at Mourmelon le Grand, the great French aviation school, nothing is spoken by the initiated among themselves but Esperanto.

Ernest Aschard, who has done much for aviation by offering prizes, is an advocate of the universal language. Henri Farman, who runs his school for flying at Mourmelon, is a master of Esperanto, and among his pupils in flying M. Efimoff, the Russian; M. Van den Born and M. de Frank are proficient.

When the day's work is over M. Farman will hoist the Esperanto flag over his hangar and give his pupils lessons in the language. They are of all nationalities, so perhaps that is one reason why aviators have taken up the language.

QUEEN MOTHER DROPS COLOR

Alexandra Gives Away Her Elaborate Court Wardrobes.

The English queen mother, Queen Alexandra, does not intend ever again to wear colors and has given away many of the costly and elaborate garments in the royal wardrobe which she will never use. She will wear the becoming small Mary Stuart bonnet with the peak in front and hanging veil behind for some time to come when out of doors, but indoors she usually wears a white crape headress with a white crape collar and broad cuffs of the same material.

Queen Alexandra has left the precincts of Buckingham palace only twice since her widowhood, but has taken a good deal of exercise in the beautiful grounds.

PRINCE A POOR LAWYER.

Fails to Clear German Burglar in First Case.

A laborer who appeared in the prisoners' dock in a Berlin police court on a charge of burglary had something of a shock when he heard the announcement that his defense would be conducted by his serene highness the Prince of Ratibor.

The accused having no counsel, the court had appointed the young prince, who is a member of the ancient house of Hohenlohe, to defend him. It was the prince's first case. The royal lawyer put up a spirited defense, but the evidence was too strong, and his first client was sentenced to four years penal servitude.

POSTAL ROBBERS ARRESTED

Stockholm Thieves Turn Out to Be Three Young College Students. Movement to Raise Million-Dollar Fund Meets Approval of Norwegian-Americans—Defense of Copenhagen Leading Question in Denmark.

***** SWEDEN. *****

The thieves who committed the postal robbery in Stockholm a few months ago, stealing letters carrying money and checks to the value of 25,000 crowns, have been arrested and are in the hands of the Stockholm police. The thieves turned out to be three young college students, one of them only nineteen years old. Two of them were arrested in Stockholm and gave their names as Falkner and Falk. The other member of the notorious and daring trio is one Malmberg, who was arrested in Vienna. Falkner is a Stockholmian and the other two are from Gotland. They had so successfully forged the name of Director Engstrom, head of a large contracting firm in Stockholm, that it was no difficulty for them to draw the amount at the postoffice. According to a telegram from Vienna Malmberg denies all connection with the robbery. He claims that the other two thieves told him that they had won 10,000 crowns in a lottery and asked him to come along with them and enjoy himself. The authorities in Stockholm are glad that they have been captured and the Stockholm police and detectives deserve much credit for the persistent way in which they followed up this robbery, which has been a mystery for months and which has kept all Stockholm guessing for a long time.

A kerosene war has broken loose in Sweden and the queer thing about it is that the warring factions are two American trusts, the Philadelphia Pure Oil company and the Standard Oil company, a name which certainly sounds very familiar to American ears. Brother Rockefeller has had a cinch in Sweden for a number of years, but now his firm has gotten in trouble with the Philadelphians. The German oil companies are also in the Swedish market, as well as the Danish, and together with the Swedish oil companies there is bound to be some interesting competition. The whole thing may be taken hold of by the Swedish government in the near future and the Standard Oil company and the Philadelphia company, as well as the other foreign oil companies, may soon be politely requested to leave the Swedish field altogether.

A great deal has been written regarding the last visit of the party of German journalists, who were the guests during their stay in Stockholm of the Stockholm Press club. The Germans were enthusiastically received and all of them have gone back to their fatherland and written all kinds of good stuff about Sweden. Emperor William received some of the editors some time ago and seemed greatly pleased to think that they were so well satisfied with their trip. The emperor is a great friend of both Sweden and Norway and he is looked upon by the great powers as the greatest and most valuable friend that the Scandinavian kingdoms have at present.

Mr. Wavinsky is not satisfied at the apparent dropping off in the ranks of the Good Templars and as chief of the world's Good Templar movement he believes that he can do better work in Paris. Wavinsky made a tour of the United States a couple of years ago, when he delivered a series of Good Templar addresses.

King Gustaf has been spending a few days at Saro. He has also enjoyed a long cruise on the Drott and visited several of the coast cities. Herman Lagerkrantz, Sweden's minister to the United States, will return to his post at Washington some time during the middle of next month. It appears that the minister will be retained at Washington in spite of the many reports to the contrary.

Dowager Queen Sofia has donated a sum of $500 to be distributed among the poor people in Satila parish and thus enable them to buy goats, which are a very useful and income bringing source for the peasants in that parish.

"Does your honor know what that means?" was the inquiry put to the court by the accused's lawyer.

of Liberty in New York harbor to this country and every returning American, when he first sees the statue, thinks gratefully of France. Every Norwegian or lover of Norway, when he gazes at the restored Trondhjem cathedral, will think gratefully of the United States. Every purpose to which the proceeds of the permanent fund may be put will raise up a host of well wishers for the United States in Norway. The bonds which unite these two great countries will thus be drawn closer and knit more firmly. It will bring us with great strides toward the ambition of all who have the welfare of mankind at heart, the establishment of universal peace." In Norway the movement has been hailed with great enthusiasm and the Norwegian people as a whole are universal in their praise of their patriotic brethren across the sea.

Typhoid fever has broken out among the soldiers in Skedsmo. About seventeen out of 100 have been sent to the military hospitals in Christiania. The disease has been rapidly spreading and the whole regiment has been threatened. It is believed that the cause of the epidemic can be traced to the milk which has been sold to the soldiers.

Dr. Alfred Erickssen, a clergyman, makes a scathing criticism of Colonel Roosevelt and his speech at the Nobel institute in Christiania. He characterizes Roosevelt as a little fat man with protruding teeth and with a face which has no signs of intelligence. Rev. Dr. Erickssen publishes a socialistic paper.

A German squadron, consisting of twenty-nine battleships and torpedo cruisers, has been cruising along the west coast of Norway during the past week. The crews on the various ships consisted of 16,221 men and it was one of the most formidable squadrons that ever cruised in Norwegian waters.

The German emperor paid his usual visit to the Trondhjem cathedral this summer and donated the usual 1,000 crowns, a sum of money which will be used towards its restoration. The emperor has now donated something like 20,000 crowns to the restoration of the famous old cathedral.

***** DENMARK. *****

There are so many different factions in politics in Denmark that it is a difficult nation to understand in this respect, but there seems to be one question upon which the country stands about evenly divided and that is regarding the defenses of Copenhagen. One party desires to put the city in a strong military position, with fortresses and other strong defenses, and another party is directly opposed to it. There is a third party, which is taking a neutral stand, but when it comes to settling the question at the polls this party would have to take a stand either for or against and therefore join hands with one or the other of the big parties. At present the question of the Copenhagen defenses is the one great question that is agitating the country.

The folketing has approved the government loan of $10,000,000. There was from the very beginning a demonstrative scene among the Social Democrats, who have all along opposed the loan. The minister of finance, however, took a determined stand and when it came to voting the Social Democrats did not attempt to show their strength. The landsting will undoubtedly follow the folketing's example and there will be no trouble in getting the loan through. The loan will be furnished by French, Danish, Swedish and German bankers.

Professor and Madame Boghild, who have been making an extensive tour through the United States during the past summer, have returned to Copenhagen and, according to the Copenhagen papers, they feel extremely well pleased with their trip. Professor Boghild delivered about fifty lectures in the United States and wherever he and his wife went in the Danish-American colonies they were most heartily received.

At Bornholm they have found the body of a Swedish laboring man named Anders Johnson. He was for some time employed by a farmer, but suddenly disappeared early last winter. It is believed that he had been in an intoxicated condition and gone to sleep and then was frozen to death.

CASH REGISTERS IN POSTAL BANK

Yankee Ingenuity to Mark Adoption of Plan.

START WITH OLD SYSTEM.

Cumbersome Foreign Procedure of Pass Books to Be Dropped as Soon as Desirable Machine is Invented to Safeguard Money Deposits of Public, Says Postmaster General.

That the United States will have a postal savings bank plan entirely different from all other postal savings schemes and that its superiority over other systems is a tribute to Yankee ingenuity are two of the facts brought out in an explanation made recently by Frank H. Hitchcock, postmaster general, concerning his intentions regarding this new financial feature in the life of the country.

Mr. Hitchcock has assured himself that the groundwork has been laid securely for the establishment of the postal banks.

Cash Register Guards Deposits.

Although every other country which has a postal savings bank system uses the pass book plan in order to keep track of the deposits of money, Mr. Hitchcock, after many conferences with authorities on savings banks, has deliberately cut loose from this scheme. He has decided to adopt a plan which in the end will depend upon machinery.

To be more exact, the cash register, essentially an American idea, will keep tabs on the deposits of money and will guard the public against the possibility of embezzlement and theft on the part of those who handle the sums turned in to be guarded by the government.

Never before has this plan been considered by any country, and all over Europe there is now in effect the cumbersome scheme of handling pass books. All the other postal savings plans of the world are practically identical.

It is now up to some inventive genius to put on the market a cash register which will do the things required for handling the money entrusted to the postoffices of the United States.

Deposit Slips at First.

But Mr. Hitchcock has not calculated that the cash register system can be put into operation at once, first, because no satisfactory register is on the market and, secondly, because the expense of installing the system at once would be too great.

For the first six months or a year there will be used deposit slips, handled by hand. They will be in figures from $1 to $9, and in addition to these there will be slips for $10, $20 and $50. The $10, $20 and $50 slips will be made out in duplicate, so that there will be no opportunity for clerks or receiving tellers to falsify them.

Only the slips running from $1 to $9 will be made out in ink as issued, and the postmaster general has figured that there is slight chance of anybody incurring the danger of the penitentiary for the benefit of falsifying any entry less than $10.

IS CENSOR OF "AERIENNES."

French Mayor Objects to Knickerbockers For Female Flight.

The mayor of Etampes, France, has views of what a woman aviator's costume ought not to be, and when he saw Mile. Abukals, one of the aeroplanists at the Etampes meeting, wearing jaunty knickerbockers with brilliant stockings he gasped. Then he had the police issue a summons against the lady.

Mile. Abukals flew every day during the week, and each day she wore knickerbockers and stockings despite the mayor's disapproval. Each day a fresh summons was issued. When Mile. Abukals appears for trial she may be fined.

Meanwhile the jocosely French newspapers are demanding that the mayor shall state just what costume air women should wear in order that rural propriety may not be shocked.

CANARY GERM DISCOVERED.

Inoculation Serum Prepared by Parisian Scientists.

Nothing is too small for the attention of the Pasteur institute in Paris, provided it is connected in any way with infection. It appears that the canary suffers from a sort of marsh fever, communicated to it by an insect known as the codex. Dr. Roux, the head of the institute, has told the Academy of Science that the bacillus of this fever has been isolated and a serum made to inoculate other canaries.

Canaries vaccinated with this serum proved comparatively immune against the attacks of the codex, while non-inoculated birds suffered severely when attacked.

Florists' Jargon.

The florists have a trade jargon of their own. When a man who grows flowers for a living rattles off something like "paper whites, valleys and Romans" the confused layman has to stop to think what the jumble of words means. It is only the trade way of saying paper white narcissus, lily of the valley and Roman hyacinth. Likewise "mum" is their word for chrysanthemum, and time and space are likewise saved by saying "cyp" instead of cypripedium. So Bridesmaid roses are "maids." American Beauties are "beauties." Perle du Jardin becomes "perle" and is pronounced pearl, while Souvenir du President Carnot is reduced to its last word, just as those other illustrious French rose names, General Jacquemont and Marechal Niel, were shortened to "Jack" and "Niel" in the heyday of their glory.—New York Press.
